Walk The Green Carpet.....

To the Class of 2011,

Roll out the green carpet and put on your gowns because it's time to go to the show. This has been a big production, a masterpiece in the works. We had our time and now must retire to the rest of our lives. The Wachusett spotlight is shining on us one last time, and here in this book, our "Hall of Fame" we'll have our memories; memories of the times we won the Trilogies Homecoming banner contest, annihilated the competition in the Super Bowl, donated our shoes to those less fortune with the Soles for Souls program, accepted Rachel's Challenge to be unique and more welcoming to new and different people, and took home trophies for the Theatre Company. The past four years have been a journey. We all worked our way up the food chain and earned the title "Senior". Holding that title was much like being a celebrity. We had privileges that the underclassmen did not. Being able to drive to school made us feel a little more mature, more like adults. Now, as we go out into the world, remember the musicians, comedians, and talented people that made high school what it was. Good luck in the future!

Seniors Class of 2011

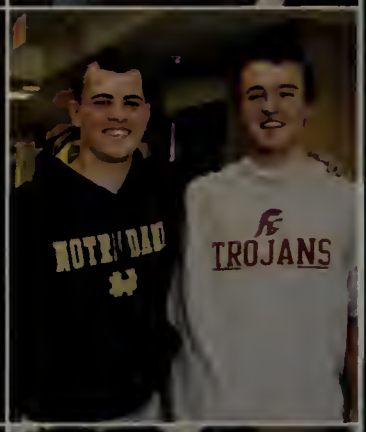
Friendship goes all the way back to 1st grade at Mayo. Molly is said to be the "Mom" of the pair.
Some things they enjoy doing together include, picnics, dining at Pub 99, and the FFC.

Hillary Fogle & Ally O'Connor

Have been BBF's since 3rd. grade when Ally moved here from Worcester. Their favorite childhood memory is playing barbies. They are a little embarrassed to admit they didn't retire their barbies until the age of 15!

John Hill & Joe Cohen

Friendship all started in 7th grade at Mount View during a Tech Ed class where they were paired up to do a project. They had to build a bridge out of balsa wood. It is said that Joe pulled the weight for this project, while John was the entertainment!



BJ Foley & Stephen Trychon

Have been best buds as long as they can remember. Shooting hoops at the Sterling nursery will never be forgotten.

George Alexiadis & Rocco DiVerdi

Definitely give meaning to the phrase "Brothers from another mother." Their similarities from looks to personality are uncanny, and look at those smiles completely infectious!

Erica Darko & Nairi Avakian

Met freshman year in Mrs. Lehey's English class and said, "It was friendship at first sight!" They enjoy sleepovers, laughing together, and prank calling each other. They love going out to eat and have a common craving of Olives.

Ashling Keegan & Nicole Capite

Friendship all began in Mrs. Grandes 4th grade class, during a showing of the movie, Cats and Dogs. These two have gone through many firsts together; first plane ride, first time away from home, now college!

Hannah Sachse & Alanna Delahanty

Have been best friends since they were in diapers. Some of their Favorite past times include Summers at Plum Island tubing and their intense Fear Factor competitions!

Power Positive 2010

"Power Positive wasn't just a walk; it's a way of life. It's inspired by Mr. Getchell who was optimistic, kindhearted and believed in the best. His kindness touched many hearts and so the Wachusett community and many others set out to walk for the cure and raised $22,000+ for melanoma research. So here's to him and many others. Stay strong and stay positive. "

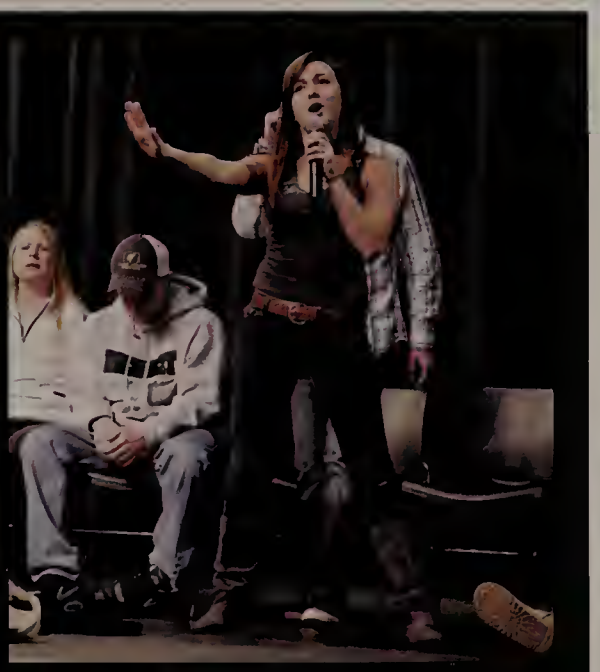
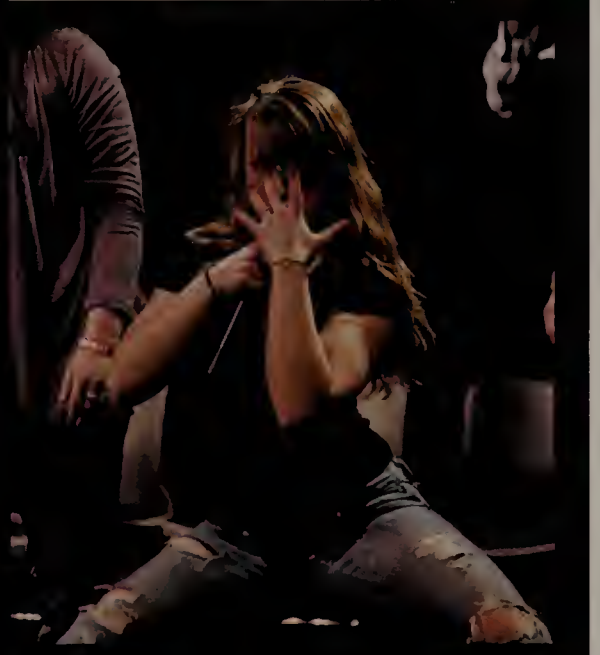
HYPNOTIST





The auditorium was rolling with belly laughs this night. The question still remains as to what was the funniest part of the evening? Was it Doug who couldn't remember his last name? Or Cam snuggling up to his smelly sneaker thinking it was a puppy? Or maybe Hillary busting out as Celine Dion? Or was it Lauren's Lady Gaga Poker Face Dance!

Until the Ink Runs Dry

There are quite a few objects that relate to my life that could epitomize me, but one that best describes me is a pen. When I get a chance, I write poetry or, if I think of a few lines that seem to grow inside me, I jot them down so I won't forget them. I usually write songs, and use my poems to incorporate with my music.

Pens come in all different colors, which relate to the diverse things I choose to write about. My writing usually reflects directly my mood at the given moment. I prefer black or blue ink because it works well with calligraphy and is always deeply visible on the page and it stands out. I also use pens to draw with. I love to draw and I usually just do sketches, but most of my pictures don't contain color, just shading. When I use a pen to draw it's like my life, if I mess up, I can't go back to fix it. There's no eraser to get rid of what I've done and I have to move on.

A pen is like me because although it may be capable of many things, it will eventually be considered useless. It will run out of ink as I will run out of life. Sometimes ink from a pen can get on something and stain it. I feel like I've left a little part of myself that will never go away inside each of my friends' lives and perhaps even my family's too. When I write I feel like my words are spilling onto the page and that they could go on forever if only I had the time. I wish I had all the time in the world because I've got a long story to tell.

Christopher –

You have become a young man of character who has compassion for others. You are artistic with the written word, your drawings and your guitar.

We are so proud of you and can't wait to read your continuing story.
